GUNPOWDER,

"The powder first tried by the Committee in the BoxerHeary cartridge, and of which they entirely approve, is known as 'Cartis and Harrey No.6.' Saveral other descriptions manifactured at the Government Factory, afforded the same uniform accuracy of shoot at.

There appear to be difficulties, confined, it is believed, to the question of expense, in producing a powder at Waithum theey in all respects equal to 'Cartis and Harvey, No.6, but the Committee, keeping in risw the imfortace of maintaining the great accuracy of shooting portance of maintaining the great accuracy of shooting of the Martini-Henry rifle, recommend that no powder should be used for its ammunities that does not give results at least equal to those obtained in the Com-mitted experiments, whether such powder be obtained from the Government Faguory or from the trade."

* Nesses Cartis and Harvey's powder was employed by Mr. Henry during the competition for accuracy of shooting and the results then attained were satisfactor; the formattee have, without make agt with of the powder of other manutacturers, continued its use as a standard

ROYAL COLUMBIAN HOSPITAL,

Confederation-First Fruits. There is a homely saying, the antiquity of which few will be disposed to question that a 'watched pot is slow in boiling.' Doubtless most of us have recently experienced the truth of this saying in connection with Confederation. Ever since the promulgation of the Terms of Union there has been a very general and very earnest desire for the early consummation of Union. It would to mere affectation to attempt concealment of the fact that this solicitude, this impatience, is attributable in great part to the well-grounded conviction of the material advantages Union will bring in its train. And when the magnitude of the aggregate advantages of Union are considered on the one hand, and the extreme need of the Colony on the other, it can scarcely be matter of surpr se that the people of British Columbia should have been watching with a considerable degree of impatience for the boiling of the Confederation pot ever since they have obtained a knowledge of the golden dumplings it contains. One of the first tangible results of Confederation will be the survey of the railway, a result chiefly important, however, a the forerunner of construction; yet a result in itself calculated to circulate no inconsiderable amount of Federal money in our midst. There is another way in which the political change will bring immediate financial relief. We allude to the assumption of our public debt by Canada, and the placing at the disposal of the local Government, in semi-annual advance grants, a sum of money larger than the Colony has ever had available for internal improvements. Another immediate material advantage will accrue from the constituction of the necessary Federal buildings, such as, Custom-house, Post-office, Pentientiary, Marine Hospital—works which will represent a considerable aggregate outlay. And here we desire to point out the importance of having the public buildings adverted to of such a character in point of architectural beauty and effect, as well as in point of impoing dimensions and substantial material, as will be calculated not only to afford ample accommodation for the demands of public business for many years to come, but also to impress the stranger with the substantial character of the Dominion Itself. British Columbia will be the so e representative of the Dominion on the Pacific, and inasmuch as the beholder will to some extent form his opinions of that Dominion by its visible representative works, it would appear to be of no little importance that these edifices should be of such a character as to invocably impress all who may resort to these shores, whether as intending settlersor as mere transient visitors. This is a point which ought visitors. This is a point which ought to be particularly impressed upon the hand of the Minister of Works during his visit here. If the State of California and, as we are led to expect, the State of Oregon, send all the way to our quarry of Newcastle for the incomparable analysing with which to construct able sandstone with which to construct their public buildings, it would, indeed, be a strange error should the Dominion Government be content with any less durable and sightly material with which to construct its national buildings on the Pacific; and there can be no reasonable doubt that the advantages certain to accrue from the erection of a class of public buildings we have been advocat_ ing would far outweigh in ultimate results any additional expenditure involved in the first instance. The last (though not the least) of the immediate material benefits justly expected from Confederation is the Graving Dock. And, here we desire to point out the importance of moving in this matter.
To the unreflecting mind the large local To the unreflecting mind the large local expenditure may appear to be the chief advantage; but such is far from being the case. Even now the want of such an essential adjunct to the maritime prosperity of the Colony is keenly felt, and scarcely a week passes that does not mark the loss of many thousands of dollars from this cause alone. But when one looks at the question in the light of the rapidly increasing maritime interests of these waters, and especially in the light of the prospective enormous developalone. But when the continued and the light of the rapidly increasing maritime interests of these waters, and especially in the light of the prospective encormous development of these in erests, both as respects British Columbia and the neighbouring Territory, it would, indeed, be difficult to oversestimate the importance of possessing a Graving Dock, suited not only to meet our own wants but also those of our more immediate neighbors. The influence of this question upon that of the presence of the British Naval Squadron is also important. With such a dock here the frequent presence of our larger war-ships at a foreign port would be less exon able and would doubtless be less frequent Indeed the dock must to a considerable extent decide the whole question of the Naval Station—a question the full importance of which is, we venture to think, very inadequately realized by most minds. To the vital importance of putting the Graving Dock in the way of being at once gone on with, the attention of the Canadian Government cannot be too soon directed. Not only must there be no uncertainty about of construction of this national work; but there must be no delay about it, and we would, therefore, carnestly urge upon those whose right it is to move at once in the matter.

Arrival of the North Pacific.

The new steamer North Pacific, Capt D Morrison, built at San Francisco for Starr Bros, arrived last night at 9 o'clock, after a Bros, arrived last night at 9 o'clock, after a boisterous passage of seven days from San Francisco, bringing 130 passengers and 60 tons of freight for Victoria and Paget Sound consignees. After leaving San Francisco on the 15th inst the North Pacific encountered severe nor west gales which compelied her on Sanday last to run into Port Orford, where she lay until Monday morning The performance of the scamer during the blow was in the highest dogles satisfactory. She is remarkably steady in a seaway and rides the heaviest seas without taking a drop of water. The officers and passengers speak

She is remarkably steady in a seaway and rides the heaviest seas without taking a drop of water. The officers and passengers speak highly of the performances of the North Pacific and pronounce her one of the fastest steamers afloat. As the new steamer came alongside the Hudson Bay Company's wharf her beautiful model excited general admiration and the crowd received her with three hearty awelooming cheers.

The North Pacific was built for Starr Bros expressly for this trade by Yates & Cotiyer of San Francisco. Her dimensions are: length, 178 feet; 52 feet beam, with a large and deep hold. Her engines—which are highly finished—were made at the Neptune Iron Works, New York City, this Spring and came out by rail. They have a working cap city of 200 horse power. The stroke is ten feet and the cylinder 38 inches. The painter was Joseph Lee of San Francisco. Saloons and ladies' exbin and boundair are handsomely furnished. The staterooms number 36, in which nearly 10.) passengers may find first-class accommodation. The forward part of the boat is fitted with shifting panels—a new feature. The entire getting of the North Pacific is elegant and she lorward part of the coast. The entire getup of the North Pacific is elegant and she reflects the highest credit upon her owners, builders and officers. She will sail this morning for Puget Sound. The list of passengers was published in our Exclusive Dispatch two days ago.

MANITOBA. - The following is summarised from the Manitoba News Letter of 17th May; -The Volunteer force has been greatly reduced and an amalagamation of companies had taken place. Amongst the latest arrivals are Honry James and family. O Laplante and family, J Kelly, J Bayle, R Stokes and A Meintrye, all of Sarnia, and all express themselves satisfied with the country. All complain of the high price of provisions. They say they would have brought provisions with them had they known that everything was so high. Two gentlemen left has weet for the States to buy extitle and will return soon, if successful with about three hundred had. It is reported that the H B Co, are also bringing through a large drove of cattle fron the States. A party of Ontario men startet on the 16th for Fiding Mountain to take up claims and to settle. Riding Mountain is 120 miles west of the western boundary of Manitoba. Canadians who have been there say reduced and an amalagamation of companies toba. Canadians who have been there say that there is than in any other part of the Nor'-West,

FROM NANAIMO, - The steamer Sir James at 6 o'clock, bringing about 12 passengers, 12 head fat cattle, 2 calves and a quantity of produce and fruit, Among the passengers were Mrs Bevilockway and daughter, Mr R Green and Mr Brannen. A Chicaman, on Wednesday, while running a car filled with coal was struck on the chest and knocked under the car. One of his legs was crushed and injuries were received of a family and the car was strucked to the car. Douglas arrived from Nauaimo last evening arrived yesterday at 2 o'clock, and after taking knocked under the car. One of this legs was croshed and injuries were received of a fatal character. Four Indians are in custody upon a charge of robbing Jerome & Paw son's store. The Shooting Star and the Taylor are loading coal.

POSTPONED,-Mr Registrar Pooley telegraphed from New Westminster yesterday that the meeting of the Assizes at Yale had been postponed till the lst prox, as on account of the high water it was feared the steamer would not reach Yale in time for the 29th

BARKER's PANORAMA.-It is reported that distinguished patronage will be extended this ine panorama. The interest taken in it by the public must be flattering to the artist's feelings after the two years be has passed in the preparation of the paintings.

Going Home. - A N Richards, Esq. Q C, starts for Brockville, Ontario, to-day for the purpose of bringing his family to this colony of which, we believe, it is his inten-tion to become a permanent resident.

KNATCHBULL-HUGESSEN,-The following passage from this gentleman's speech on the colonial question, delivered in the British House of Commons on the 12th alt, will repay a perusal:—Our colonies were the means of extending our trade over every part of the world. They opened markets part of the world. They opened markets for us which would otherwise not only have been shut against us, but unknown to us. Glancing at our geographical situation, with a vigorous and healthy population conflued within a limited area, the natural result of our greatly increasing numbers was that a large emigration let our shores, every citizen taking from the parent State material weath and strength. Was it nothing that, instead of being compelled to begin his new existence in a strange land, hearing nothing but a foreign language spoken around him, he found open to him a land where the English language was spoken, where the English language was spoken, where institutions, coupled with the name of England, were overtshed as household words, where everything around him tended to kindle and keep alive a patricie affection towards that English and the control of the control of the country of the control of the c for us which would otherwise not on y have thing arouted him tended to kindle and keep alive a pattic to affection towards that Englann to which he still belonged, and in whose power and glery he still participated? (Hear) These were not vain and imaginative words. These patrictic feelings existed throughout our colonies and were appreciated by the people of this country. He might instance Canada as a country of which we might well be proud, and the more recent Confederation of British Columbia, to whose growing prosperity and gradual development every Raglishmen must look with pride and satisfaction. The people of Canada were most loyally attached to this country and it was our intention and determination to cherish and maintain our connection with them, being maintain our connection with them, being animated alike by community of interest and by affection for the throne and institutions of the empire.'

A JEWEL OF A SHEET .- We have before termed the Standard a valuable journal. We have now great pleasure in pronouncing it a precious jewel. Yesterday is published nearly one column of telegraphic dispatches which appeared in The Colonist six days before, was peared in The Colonist six days before, was copied (without credit) by the Standard on the following day, went over the Sound, was published in one of the papers there on Monday last, came back the same night by the Olympia, was discovered by Scissors while grubbing in the Sound exchanges for scraps and other cold victuals, and republished again in the Standard yesterday! Are we not right in terming our cotemporary a precious jewel of a paper?

PRINCE ALFRED'S PASSENUERS .- The following passengers were booked last evening: A N Richards, Mrs M Bowker, Mrs T L Wood and two children, E Heathfield, J Goodfellow, Mrs Jenning and three children, Goodiellow, and Sandista and Aliken, Captain Hooper, J Blackston, J S Bowker, C Williams, L Palerimi, H P Cornwall, T Ellis, Ph Houghton, C Teylor, A Twentyman, A Cheng, A Weig. Chong, Ah Wei.

THE CHAINGANG BREAK .- One of the fugitive Siwashes was slightly wounded on the heel by a pistolshot fired by the policemen on Wednesday night. Yesterday the irons were found in a clump of bushes near Cedur Hill, and two Indians residing on Fisgard street were arrested for giving aid and comfort to the fugitives. It would appear that the escape was planned by Fort Rupert Indians and the convicts were to have gone North to-day in a canoe.

LIVELY .- Esquimatt presented a lively scene yesterday. Two steamer-loads of passengers landed on the wharves reminded one of the good old days of yore when the ocean stamships put in at that pleasant little town and made the streets and business houses resound with the busy hum of traffic

INDIAN DIGGINGS .- A letter from Clinton, date of June 15th, says :- Indians have found a place near Leon's Creek, about 120 miles above Lillooet, that pays them well to work. You cannot believe as Indian anyway as to quantity and they all lie naturally, but they are excited on the subject and very busy.'

FROM PORTLAND .- The schooner Clara Light Capt Mitchell, 4 days from Portland, Ogn., and 3 from Astoria, arrived yesterday morning consigned to Janion Rhodes & Co. She brings 104 tons of Oregon produce for Victoria, and 79 for Puget Sound. Capt Mitchell's wife and family and one passenger for Puget Sound are on board the schooner.

CAPITALISTS.—Among the passengers by the Oriflamme were A DeLasky, Col J G the Orlitamme were A Delisky, Col J G
Stewart and Mr Koch, lately from England and representing the English capitalists who lately purchased a controling interest in the Northern California and Oregon Ruilroads,
It was for this party that the Orifiamme was sent around Puget Sound.

A Model Homestead Enterprise.

A homestead association, on a scale more ded and better perfected than anything ever attempted near any other city, is now in operation at Chicago. The plan com-bines many important advantages. Here is an account of it.

A party of capitalists and men of taste and

A party of capitalists and men of tasto and administrative ability purchesed an extensive tract of cultivatable land, known as the George's Farms, on the banks of the Des Plains river, about 14 miles from the Chicago Court House, and on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. There they commenced their improvements on the most improved plan. The streets were laid out on the curvelinear plan, graded, paved, sidowalked and sewered complete, gas was put in, waterworks supplied from artesian wells constructed, extensive parks laid out and beautified, an artificial lake created, and in fact everything periaining to a first-class city, excepting the houses and inhabitants finished ready for use before a lot was offered. Several hundred bouses and inhabitants hished ready for use before a lot was offered. Several hundred acres of wood land were reserved for the principal park and all the ornamental trees preserved unharmed, art being only called in to complete and render attractive the work nature had begun. Churches, school houses, botels, skating rinks and railroad depots, were botels, skating rinks and railroad depots, were all provided for in advance. The lots were then sold at $400 each, their size being 100 by 150 feet, without extra assessments, and with the reservation only that the purchaser should be acceptable to the Trustees, and be under obligation to build upon it and improve it limm-clately. The result is that a first-class suburban town, with all the advantages of solurban town, with all the advantages of country air and drives, and all the comforts and conveniences and attractions of a city, has sprung up like magic. The is no auctioning off or the lots at premiums, but the first to purchase and improve have, of course, the phairs of location. As the application is the choice of location. As the population in-creases, the out 'de and primary least valu-able lots increase in relative value from the improvements made on the others, and readily y realize the same price as those first selected.
